Local healthy lifestyle options continue to expand

By CRYSTAL HUISMAN The Grundy Register

GRUNDY CENTER - The Grundy Center community seems to be health conscious with access to community gardens, nutrition experts and a variety of fitness opportunities, its citizens can find the right fit for their goals and needs. One newcomer to the fitness scene in Grundy Center wants to add art to the options for fitness in the community.

"I want to share my love for dance," said Kara Heinrich, Owner. "Grundy Center hasn't had its own dance studio in recent years. It adds something different that isn't available now."

Heinrich plans to open her doors in August and will offer free trial classes of Zumba on Thursday nights starting August 7th. Heinrich has taken dance classes for 17 years and has taught private lessons and led dance camps for the past four years. She has been a licensed Zumba instructor since 2011 and has taught at both the local YMCA and Fusion Dance & Fitness of Waterloo. She plans to offer multiple Zumba classes as well as dance classes for ages 3 to 13 including ballet, tap, jazz & hip-hop.

"At Movement you won't have to buy a membership," said Heinrich. "There will be a drop-in rate for each class."

School Board discusses Upper Elementary boiler

By JOHN JENSEN

The Grundy Register GRUNDY CENTER — The future of the Grundy Center Community School District's Upper Elementary was a point for discussion last week as the District's School Board hosted its monthly meeting.

At issue was what to do about the boiler in a building that is used for Grundy Center Preschool classes, pre- and transitional kindergarten, storage and some programs for the Grundy Family YMCA. It currently has a temporary boiler in place that is being rented.

Director Brent Ascher reported that Waterloo Boiler has a used boiler built in the early 2000s available that the District could purchase for between $70,000 - $75,000. A new boiler would cost about twice that, but would come with warrantee coverage. In either case, the District would also need to either purchase a trailer or construct a shelter outside the building for the boiler.

A third possibility would be to continue renting a boiler. District Maintenance Director Vern Folkedahl said Capitol City Boiler smoothed out initial problems with the rented boiler and was extremely rent the temporary boiler.

ANOTHER IN MAINTENANCE MATTER, the Board held a lengthy discussion about the cost of snow removal. The past two years, District snow removal costs have gone up significantly. After ranging from $2,530 to $6,930 from 2010 to 2012, costs jumped to $34,958 two years ago and $34,938 last year.

"We have to find a way to reduce that (cost)," Director Ron Saak said. In the past, according to Folkedahl, District personnel did all of the snow removal work themselves. The last year of that, 2010, District costs were $3,823.

"I don't know how they did it," he said while also noting that District snow removal equipment is responsive when the District needed assistance with it.

Ascher, a member of the District's Facilities Committee, said if the District is going to keep the Upper Elementary open for two to three more years, purchasing the used boiler would pay for itself.

"I'm trying to be dollar responsible," he said.

Ascher added that with a purchase of this magnitude the District would need to get bids for a boiler though legally it would not need to in the case of an emergency.

"I'm not sure this qualifies as an emergency," he said.

Superintendent Jerry Schutz said it would be possible to have bids by the time the Board meets in August. That was the direction the Board opted to go, asking Schutz to get the bids as well as information about the outdated. Saak said if there was a large snowfall, the District would not have the equipment to remove the snow itself. The lowest year in the past five, 2011, saw Frontier Landscaping and Lawn Care do the work for just $2,530. That year, however, required just 46 hours of snow removal service. Two years ago, the last that an hourly breakdown was available in a document provided by the School District, 241.33 hours were required. That year was the first that the District also paid for liquid ice control at a cost of $14,207, accounting for more than 40 percent of the snow removal cost.

Folkedahl said a priority for the maintenance department is that the District continue to use the liquid cost and availability of continuing to See SCHOOL BOARD page 3

In the future, Heinrich would like to offer additional fitness classes including Booty Barre, yoga, pilates as well as high school dance classes.

"It provides entertainment and artistic expression as well as fitness," said Heinrich.

While Movement gears up to open for business, another newcomer continues to adapt to the fitness needs of the community. In October 2013. Justin Moore and his wife Laura opened Elite Body Creation (EBC), using a 10 week focused boot camp as its primary focus.

"We were planning to move to Arizona, but my wife got hired at the local hospital," said Justin Moore, Owner of EBC. "I honestly didn't know what to expect coming into it."

Moore is certified in personal training and nutrition and says he planned to open a small personal training gym but the demand for a group program led him to offer the 10-week boot camp. The response from the community and the surrounding area has been positive.

"We have served more than 200 people since we opened," said Moore. "There are a lot of people who've met friends in this gym."

Moore says they are making changes to their boot camp program as they gain experience and feedback to find out what works best.

"It brings people together," said

Moore. "We have people that show up every day because it's how they start their day."

Moore plans to add tanning services soon and plans are also in the works to add a 24-hour gym.

"We want an all in one place for people to come," said Moore. "Whether you want to come and lift weights on your own or have an instructed class, we want to have it all in one place."

While having a variety of options is important to the community, longevity is key to having growth and prosperity. The Grundy Family YMCA hopes to offer both variety and history for the community in the See HEALTHY OPTIONS page 3 coming years.

The YMCA has been operating in Grundy Center for 11 years and continues to adapt its programs to meet the needs it sees in the community.

"We want to make sure that we can provide programs for people with a variety of abilities," said Andrew Peters, Branch Director for the Grundy Family YMCA. "We want people to feel connected to the Y in some way."

The Y provides a variety of options for people of all ages and abilities ranging from kickboxing and swimming fitness for adults, before

All was quiet Tuesday at the Grundy County Fairgrounds as exhibitors brought in their animals and non-livestock work in preparation for Wednesday's initial shows. Much of the day was spent preparing the barns for the animals, with fans mounted and electricity brought to the various locations. Pictured is work in the beef barn. Buildings along the Pioneer Trail in Morrison received significant damage in the June 29 storm. (John Jensen/ The Grundy Register photo)

Morrison storm confirmed a tornado

By JOHN JENSEN

The Grundy Register MORRISON - The June 29 storm that caused significant damage in Morrison has been confirmed as a tornado.

The confirmation came in an information graphic on the National Weather Service Web site, www. crh.noaa.gov/dmx/, that was posted last week. The graphic notes that the storm lasted from 8:18 to 8:22 p.m., that it started 9/10th of a mile west of Morrison and was on the ground for 1.91 miles. The tornado was confirmed as an EF1, which contain winds of 86 to 110 miles per hour and typically do most of their damage to mobile homes and temporary structures as well as the roofs of permanent structures.

Damage in Morrison was along and north of Highway 175 along Railroad Street. One building was demolished while another lost its roof and a third had a portion of a wall taken down. One home suffered damage when a tree fell on it, while several other buildings appeared to suffer less severe damage, likely from flying debris.

The National Weather Service did not initially send a storm assessment team to the area, but made its finding based on photographs provided from the area.

The Morrison tornado was the first in Grundy County since at least 2012. It was followed one week later by an EF1 twister that touched down just west of Reinbeck and damaged a pair of homes. There were no injuries or fatalities in either storm.

Hair Mechanic is newest option for hair styling

By JOHN JENSEN The Grundy Register

GRUNDY CENTER – Pink. It is a color that strikes you the moment you step foot in Keri Teege's new Grundy Center styling salon. From fixtures to mirrors to cabinets, it is what you see at The Hair Mechanic, on Seventh Street just north of G Avenue in Grundy Center.

Teege, who hails originally from northwest Iowa, has been styling for a decade. She had worked at Cost Cutter locations in Spirit Lake and Waterloo prior to the opportunity coming up to opening her own salon. She said it was after seeing how busy that other local styling studios were that she decided to open her own.

"Everyone in the community is booked solid, so I just figured that another person would help out," she said.

Teege said it had always been her hope to go into business for herself.

"I just didn't realize it was actually going to happen," she said. It was May that Teege and her boyfriend, Joe Stuber, began planning The Hair Mechanic.

"It's been very challenging," she said. "It's very stressful getting everything together. It came together quick.'

By June 2 she had opened her doors. Teege said her business does hair cutting for men, women and children and can also wax eyebrows, chins and lips.

"We don't do nails or anything like that," Teege said. "Highlights and lowlights, perms ..."

The décor is something that Stuber suggested.

"He had mentioned the toolbox idea and I was (initially) kind of up in the air about it," she said. "Then I saw it in a picture and kind of liked it."

Joann Billee Aukes

Joann Billee (Groote) Aukes, of Waukee died July 9, 2014, at her home in Waukee. Funeral services will be 10 a.m. Monday, July 28, at Faith Lutheran Church, in Adel, with interment at 3 p.m. at Pleasant Valley United Methodist Cemetery northeast of Wellsburg. Family will receive friends one hour prior to service time at the church. Memorials may be directed to Faith Lutheran Church in Adel. Online condolences may be left at mccalleyfuneralhome.com.

Joann Billee Groote was the daughter of William Groote and Jeanette Dirks Groote of Grundy Center. She was born on February 6, 1930 in the family home in Grundy Center. She attended Grundy Center Public Schools from kindergarten through high school. Joann was an excellent student. She participated in many of the school's music programs, including girl's sextet and the high school band where she played the alto saxophone. She was pleased that both organizations earned awards in State competition during her participation. She graduated from high school in 1948. Joann enrolled at Iowa State Teacher's College (now UNI) in Cedar Falls the fall of 1948. She continued there until early February 1949.

On February 25, 1949 she was united in marriage with Virgil Aukes of Wellsburg. Virgil lived with his mother and her family on the family farm north of Wellsburg, where he operated the farm with his Mother. After the wedding Joann made her home with Virgil on the family farm. In March of 1951 they moved to a farm southwest of Morrison where they started their own farm operation.

In November of 1951, during the Korean War, Virgil was required to enter military service. Joann was able to be with him during several months of training in San Diego, California and for three years of his permanent duty in Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. On January 17, 1954, their first son, Dean, was born in Hawaii. The family returned from Hawaii in November of 1955. They next three years they lived in Ames where Virgil attended Iowa State College (now ISU) and Joann worked full-time at Union Trust and Savings Bank in the bookkeeping department.

After Virgil's graduation they moved to Minnesota, then back to Iowa where their second son, John was born in Des Moines on September 18, 1962. They lived in Adel, Charles City and Des Moines. In June, 1969, they moved to Texas. They made Dallas their permanent home where they raised their family and lived most of their life. Joann enjoyed a 20 year career in public school administration, retiring in 1990. But, before her professional career, she devoted all of her time, energy and love to her family. She was always ready to be involved in whatever the family needed. She was always there for her sons, providing the love, inspiration and guidance during those years when they benefit from it the most.

Joann had many interesting hobbies. Knitting and quilting filled her spare moments after work for many years, often knitting as we drove on one of the many long drives with her husband. After retirement her love of music again became one of her passions. Steady practice soon brought the talent evident during her high school and college years. For twenty more years, well into her eighties, she played her saxophone regularly in her main band. She substituted in other bands when a player wasn't able to be there. She was always a favorite when she played a special selection at church.

The arrival of grandchildren brought a whole new interest to her life. How they all loved her and how she loved them. She was so blessed by having them all brought up in the love of God by their loving parents, each one knowing of Him early in their life. Who could know how many of her prayers and petitions went up for each of them, day by day, through the years.

Joann's great strength was her faith in God and in Jesus Christ as her savior. She was raised in a Christian home, baptized as a very small baby and confirmed as a young teenager. She attended church and Sunday School regularly all of her life from early childhood on until near the very end. During the week she found strength in reading the Bible and other Christian literature, rarely missing her "daily devotions." Certainly her departure from this earth to be in heaven with her Lord was a joyous event. Praise and thank God for her loving life on earth. Joann is survived by her husband Virgil; sons, Dean (Michele) Aukes of Sherman, Texas and John (Tracy) Aukes of Adel; grandchildren, Tiffany Leah Aukes, Matthew David Aukes (married to Lois Vargas Aukes), Angela Renee Aukes, Josiah Daniel Aukes, Benjamin John Aukes, Jonathan Paul Aukes, Aaron Joseph Aukes, Joel Nathanael Aukes, Nathaniel Connor Aukes, and Christine Grace Aukes; great-grandchild, Iliana Elise Aukes; sister, Carol Akin of Grundy Center; sister-in-law, Lavonne (Kempton) Walbaum of Marshalltown; brother-in-law, Wayne (Carol) Aukes of Wellsburg and brother-in-law, Dale Aukes of Bangor/Union.

"The liquid brine does a better job," he said.

Folkedahl also discussed shoveling snow from the roofs of District buildings, something that is necessary after any significant snowfall to prevent leaking. That work is currently done by Folkedahl and his staff.

"If there is a way to have someone else do it, that would be preferable," he said.

The Board made no decisions, opting to investigate the situation further and also get bids for the work.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, the Board approved the purchase of an $8,000 floor scrubbing machine. Folkedahl said the machine being purchased costs $1,500 more than what the District projected to spend on a machine, but that this machine is four inches wider and significantly better than the one it had initially looked at.

The Board approved hiring Kari Borer as its cheerleading sponsor and Dennis Dirks as the driver education teacher. The Board also approved rehiring Mindy Hamann to the position as elementary associate that she had previously held after Hamann no longer planned to leave the community.

Peters says the current facilities in use have some limitations including working around school hours, practices and activities as well as having enough space to offer the variety of programs the community might en-

On a related note, the Board approved a change order request for tornado safe room construction due to excavating work.

In addition, the Board approved the purchase of $7,215 worth of electronic equipment, including televisions and mounting hardware, for tornado safe room classrooms.

The Board approved the 2014-15 Student-Parent Handbook. Secondary Principal Ann Lebo said there will be changes in how people enter the Secondary building this year, with traffic aimed more toward the main entrance (along M Avenue) and away from the auditorium entrance on 12th Street. She said there will also be some changes in student pickup-dropoff procedures this year. Lebo, who is replacing the retiring Steve Vander-Pol this year, said there will probably be more changes in next year's Student-Parent Handbook.

It also set legislative priorities that it will ask the Iowa Association of School Boards (IASB) to push during the 2015 legislative session.

The Board will hold a work session Aug. 14 at 5 p.m. to discuss superintendent goals as well as athletic program sharing. The next regular Board meeting will be held Aug. 20 at 5 p.m.

I have a bit of a confession to make. I'm a softy for anything cute and cuddly. Puppies, kittens (which, due to allergies, I cannot so much as touch), duckling, little chicks ... even young farm animals trip my trigger in a positive way as much as anything in the world. Even the petting zoos at local festivals ... I love watching the animals as children interact with them.

Which brings me to this week's big event, the Grundy County Fair. Ever since I can remember I've enjoyed fairs, and the local Fair Week has always been something I look forward

Though I grew up basically a city boy, I've been exposed to the ag side of things for as long as I can remember. I actually think my dad would have been one heck of a farmer had that been the lifestyle he grew degrees. My last few years in Oelwein I volunteered to take over a majority of fair coverage, as it wasn't one of our editor's favorite events. While working there I also helped a little with the Buchanan County Fair, mainly photographing events that required stop-action photography such as the rodeo and stock car races. I also covered the Benton County Fair for one year while working in Vinton.

When I first came to Grundy Center, we had a great fair photographer in Marilyn Myers. It was an arrangement the paper had for a few years before I came and one that the Fair Board was really comfortable with, though I confess that I really missed being out there.

When Marilyn opted out of covering the Fair last year, I know there were concerns that our paper might not be doing some of the things it had in the past ... Fair Board members told me as much. They seemed pleased that, as we had promised, nothing had changed.

The other thing that didn't change was how much I enjoyed being out there. Last year I might have had as much fun at the fair than any year before. Everyone was friendly and cordial ... I can see why Marilyn enjoyed covering it as much as she did.

The Grundy County Fair isn't as big as a lot of county fairs around Iowa, though I actually think that's a good thing. Our fair focuses on what it does best, which is provide a place for the 4-H and FFA kids to show what they've been working on for the past year. Sure, the biggest crowds come out for the fireworks and demolition derby, but to me those are really secondary to the events involving the kids. And the best thing about most of the events (except for a couple of things in the grandstand) is that they're absolutely free to attend.

This seems like a good time to thank both the Grundy County Extension office: Shari Andrea Ashley and Kelsey as well as the Fair Board and livestock superintendents for their help in covering the Fair. Without their assistance our job would be much, much harder.

Northey comments on lowa Crops and Weather report

DES MOINES - Iowa Secretary of Agriculture Bill Northey today commented on the Iowa crop progress and condition report released by the USDA National Agricultural Statistical Service. The report is released weekly from April through October.

"The beautiful weather last week was great for farmers needing to make hay," Northey said. "The much warmer weather this week will increase the stress on both crops and livestock. Farmers will be monitoring livestock closely during the extremely hot and humid weather forecast for the first part of the week."

The weekly report is also available on the Iowa Department of Agriculture and Land Stewardship's website at www.IowaAgriculture. gov or on USDA's site at www.nass. usda.gov/ia. The report summary follows here:

CROP REPORT

Over one-quarter of the second cutting of alfalfa hay was harvested during the week ending July 20, 2014, according to the USDA, National Agricultural Statistics Service. Statewide there were 6.3 days suitable for fieldwork, surpassing the previous season high of 5.3 days suitable near the end of May. In addition to cutting hay, activities for the week included fungicide and herbicide application.

A lack of precipitation across most of the state this week resulted in a decline in soil moisture levels. Topsoil moisture levels rated 0 percent very short, 7 percent short, 82 percent adequate, and 11 percent surplus. Subsoil moisture levels rated 1 percent very short, 7 percent short, 82 percent adequate, and 10 percent surplus.

Fifty-nine percent of the corn acreage was silking, 11 days ahead of last year and 2 days ahead of the five-year average. Seventy-seven percent of the corn crop was reported in good to excellent condition. Blooming was evident in 67 percent of the soybean acreage, more than double the percent last year. Nineteen percent of the sovbean crop was setting pods, well ahead of last year's 2 percent. Seventy-four percent of the soybean crop was rated in good to excellent condition, virtually unchanged from last week. With 83 percent of the oat acreage having turned color, oat harvest reached 21 percent complete, 2 percentage points ahead of last year but 17 percentage points behind normal. Seventy-three percent of the oat acreage was reported in good to excellent condition, unchanged from the previous week. With the first cutting of alfalfa hay nearly complete, the second cutting of alfalfa was 54 percent complete, two days ahead of last year but 6 days behind normal. Sixty-eight percent of all hay was rated in good to excellent condition. Pasture condition rated 74 percent good to excellent. Overall stress on livestock was minimal during the week, but pink-eye was reported in some cattle due to wet conditions.

• Center Theater – South Pacific 75 Years Ago This Week - 1939

· Many business and professional men from Grundy County towns attended the annual guest day party given by the Waterloo chamber of commerce Tuesday

up with. He's always had huge gardens, and like me he has a soft spot for animals.

The first county fair I remember going to was the Erie County Fair in Ohio. I don't remember whether we walked through the barns, but I remember going to the demo derby. I went to the Jefferson County Fair a few times after we moved to Iowa, and my family often attended the Iowa State Fair, but my first real exposure to the fair culture came during my first professional job in Washington. Our editor believed in heavy fair coverage and that the whole staff, including the sports editor, should be involved in it. Washington County's fair was a lot like Grundy County's, with a heavy emphasis on the 4-H/FFA stuff and a decent amount of entertainment, though it was quite a bit bigger simply because the communities in the area were bigger. The postfair section there was also a lot like the one we do here in Grundy Center.

A lot of what they had me cover in Washington was the fairly simple shows. I always ended up doing the dairy goats, and I think they usually had me do the market beef. They also had me cover a lot of the evening entertainment. One thing we had there that we also have here in Grundy County is a great working relationship with the local 4-H office.

Since leaving Washington, I've been involved in fair coverage to varying

WHEN YOU ATTEND THE FAIR, even if it's just for the queen contest, the demo derby or even the fireworks, here are a few things to do:

• Walk through the barns. Particularly if you have elementary-aged children, be sure to take enough time to walk through the barns and meet the animals. And while you're there, be sure to spend a little time with the kids who are showing their livestock — they would love to talk to you.

• Visit the non-livestock and Open Class buildings - These exhibits aren't going to look you in the eye or sniff you when you come up to them, but they are going to show you the incredible talent that our local kids (and adults in the Open Class) have.

• Get something good to eat - Even if it's just a hamburger or hot dog. know that you are supporting our local kids and ag producers. And I have yet to eat anything at the fair that wasn't incredibly good!

Whatever you do, get out to the Fair. To me it's a rite of summer. And if you're a city boy like me, there's no way to get closer to the rural way of life.

Proposed water rules could devastate local landowners

Dear Editor.

Last week I had the opportunity to visit with Iowa's Congressional Delegation and other Federal Officials regarding the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (Corps) proposed water rule expansion. This rule would expand the definition of a "navigable water" or "water of the United States" which are regulated under the Clean Water Act (CWA). Currently a very small area, less than 5%, of Grundy County is regulated by CWA, the proposed rule would regulate nearly the entire county.

Regulations would be extended to ditches, gullies, adjacent non-wetlands and other areas that are away from navigable waters. It would apply to areas that may hold or conduct water for only a short period of time after a rain storm as well as shallow subsurface water like that drained by farm tile.

Farmers could be forced to apply and pay for federal permits and work through government red tape to do normal activities such as constructing a waterway, applying fertilizer, spraying weeds or planting a tree. A farmer is found to be out of compliance, fines of $37,500 per day can be assessed, and farmers could be subjected to citizen lawsuits from activists who want to expand CWA jurisdiction. Congressional action and two previous U.S. Supreme Court decisions decided the Clean Water Act does not give the EPA control over all water.

This rule could potentially deny landowners economic use of their property. All farmers, landowners, and citizens interested in a strong rural economy should learn about the rule and its potential consequences. The American Farm Bureau Federation website, http://ditchtherule.fb.org provides information and resources to contact the EPA and Corps. I encourage everyone to use the website to share their comments with the EPA and Corps. It's quick, simple, and it is making a difference.

Farmland leasing meeting set for August 6 in Grundy Center

More than half of Iowa farmland is rented, and the percentage of farmland rented has increased over time due to the changing demographics of farmland owners. Iowa farmland cash rental rates decreased by $10 an acre from 2013 to 2014.

Iowa State University Extension and Outreach in Grundy County is hosting a farmland leasing meeting on August 6, 2014 at 7 p.m. to address questions that land owners, tenants, or other interested individuals have about farmland leasing.

The meeting will be held at the Grundy Center Community Center located at 705 F Avenue in Grundy Center. The meeting is approximately 2 ½ hours in length. Similar meetings are being held across Iowa during the first three weeks of August.

Attendees will gain understanding of current cash rental rate surveys and factors driving next year's rents such as market trends and input costs. They will learn about types of leases and results of farmland value surveys. Additionally, information on 2012 Census, Farm Bill, CSR2, and Nutrient Reduction Strategy will be presented. A 100-page workbook will be included with registration that includes land leasing information such as surveys, sample written lease agreement and termination forms, and many other publications.

"Due to changes in commodity markets, cash rent values, and government programs farmland owners and tenants may have more decisions over the next year than in previous years, and this meeting provides information to stay up to date on farmland lease issues", says Kelvin Leibold, ISU Extension and Outreach Farm and Ag Business Management Specialist. Leibold will be the presenter at the meeting.

Pre-register by calling the Grundy County Extension and Outreach office at 319-824-6979.

Dike Baseball DNH vs Columbus

Grundy_NEWS_Register

It was a beautiful evening for baseball in Parkersburg. The stands were full of excited people from Dike, New Hartford and Waterloo.

The bright blue and white uniforms against the green grass and powder blue skies were breathtaking.

Ok I will get back to baseball but it was quite pretty.

The innings flew by as pitchers from DNH and Columbus showed their stuff, fastballs, curves and of course some I didn't know what to call a few of those special ones that came across the plate but we watched many batters leave the plate and return to the dugout.

It was entertainment at its best and in that 8th inning the fun ended and our players did their best to hold Columbus scoreless. The end came with the score zero to one.

It was a great game and we are very proud of the season these players let us enjoy.

Now is the time to take those uniforms and get them bright blue and white ready for next year.

Compassion Fatigue

Compassion fatigue is a term that is often applied to people who work in the helping professions, such as doctors, nurses, teachers, and social workers, and refers to the gradual decrease of compassion which these people sometimes feel in response to others' suffering. It may be that after seeing so much suffering we become desensitized to it. Indeed, there is some evidence that everyone may be prone to compassion fatigue through the media's portrayal of suffering people. Hearing everyday about Syrian refugees or the homeless in America may make us less likely to respond compassionately than if we were hearing about these unfortunate souls less often. People who are experiencing high levels of stress and who have inadequate support networks are more likely to experience compassion fatigue, perhaps because they feel that no one is helping them with their problems and they feel like they have nothing left in their "bucket" to share. Since compassion is one of the essential callings of the faithful, we should do our best to prevent compassion fatigue by managing our own levels of stress and by ensuring that we have a good support network in place. And, we should remember that God is always there to back us up.

Christopher Simon

I cannot carry all these people by myself; the burden is too heavy for me. 1 Corinthians 12:13

Spartans rally from five down, edge G-R in district semifinal AGWSR finishes well despite

By JOHN JENSEN The Grundy Register GRUNDY CENTER – Jordan Clapp hit a go-ahead RBI single in the ninth inning, leading Grundy Center to a come-from-behind victory over rival Gladbrook-Reinbeck in a Class 1A district semifinal Thursday.

The Spartans (12-18 prior to Saturday's district final) trailed by five after four innings, needed three seventh-inning runs to force extra innings and a spectacular defensive play in the bottom of the eighth to eliminate the Rebels (21-10) from the postseason for the second straight year.

"I know these guys are going to come to battle, especially with the team that we just beat," Grundy Center coach Jacob Grafenberg said.

Clapp was a man on a mission for the Spartans, driving home five of GC's eight runs and scoring two others, including the tying run in the seventh, while assisting on the game-extending defensive play in the eighth inning and pitching the ninth for his first save of the season.

"It just took a big effort from the team to get there," Clapp said. "They got on base in scoring position for me to hit them in and we just executed at the end when we needed it."

Gladbrook-Reinbeck nearly won the game in the eighth inning. With one out Brady Kuehl drew a walk and Colton Dinsdale pinch ran. With one out, Cameron Murphy lofted a fly ball to center field that Austin Burroughs, an infielder playing center in place of Bryce Moats who was pitching, dropped. Burroughs grabbed the ball in time to fire it to the cutoff man, Clapp, who fired home to his brother Jared who tagged Dinsdale as he was sliding home.

"That really saved the game for us," Grafenberg said. "Austin is a great ballplayer with a lot of heart, and he knows if he makes a mistake he's going to do everything he can to make up for it, and that's what he did. Yes, he dropped the ball but he still got it in; we got a good relay, Clapp threw it right on a line to our catcher and we got the out."

Umpires soon returned Moats to ple to right-center to make it a onebase, however, while calling Weldon out, leaving more than the fans wondering what was going on.

"Honestly I didn't know anything until I was given an explanation," Grafenberg said. "Basically our batter stepped out of the batter's box when he hit the ball, which makes him out and a dead ball, which means our runner gets to stay at first."

Gladbrook-Reinbeck coach Jeff Charley was confused as well, getting explanations from both the home plate and base umpires before returning to the dugout.

"(The home plate umpite) said he made the call right from the beginning," Charley said. "And then I just questioned the base umpire whether he saw it because he didn't act on it until the players were in the dugout. Everybody's going back to the dugout and the next batter's coming up and then all of the sudden he changes his mind. I didn't see a dead ball - (the home plate umpire's) hands never went up, the umpire on the field said his hands never went up."

Grundy Center took advantage of its newfound momentum moments later when Jordan Clapp smashed a sharp single that scored Moats, who had advanced to second on a passed ball, giving the Spartans their first lead of the game. Jordan then scored on an RBI single by Jared Clapp to make it a two-run game.

"In all four years of varsity baseball I've never been in a game like this," Jordan Clapp said.

Jordan then came on in relief, allowing just a two-out single to pick up the save. Moats was the winning pitcher, throwing three innings of shutout relief while striking out three.

"Our two seniors did what they needed to do - they stepped up and played a heck of a ball game," Grafenberg said.

Gladbrook-Reinbeck jumped ahead 5-0 after three innings as Joe Smoldt smashed an RBI triple in the second inning and Logan Flamme and Josh Cooley had RBI base hits in the third. GC made a game of it with a three-run fifth highlighted by That was only the beginning of Jordan Clapp's two-run single, and

falling short in district semi-final Bv PATTI RUST Sports Correspondent

JANESVILLE – The AGWSR baseball team closed out the 2014 season with a pair of exciting Class 1A district contests, despite falling short in their upset bid against Janesville in the semi-final round. After prevailing 16-15 in an offensive slugfest with Nashua-Plainfield on Tuesday, the Cougars fell 9-5 to Janesville in a Wildcat comeback win on Thursday.

AGWSR held a 5-1 lead over Janesville going into the sixth when the Wildcats rallied with a huge eight-run inning to take over the lead and secure the win. AGWSR coach Darwin Pfaltzgraff said the Cougars threw their best game plan at the Wildcats, with Dylan Heetland at the mound Thursday after having thrown three innings and picking up the win on Tuesday, but it wasn't enough to hold off a Wildcat sixth inning surge.

"He threw three good innings Tuesday night, and I knew he had it in him," Pfaltzgraff said. "I may have (stayed with him too long), at the same time, he's my strongest pitcher. I had no one else to go to. Sully (Hofmeister), he has good control, but I knew this was a good-hitting team and with a control pitcher, they were just going to unload on him, too, so that wasn't even in the equation. It's one of those things where you live and die by what your plans are, unfortunately it didn't work out."

Heetland kept the Janesville hitters in check for five full innings, striking out four and walking five, with all but one of the walks intentional. Caleb Bartling relieved him in the sixth when the Wildcat bats began to find the holes. Though a double play by the Cougar defense threatened to cut the inning short, the Wildcats rallied on two after a blooper sparked a hitting spree that just wouldn't quit.

Unlike the big inning by the Wildcats, the Cougars slowly built their early lead, after a missing an opportunity for many more runs in the opening inning. With bases loaded in the first, the Wildcats managed to convert an uncertain out on a fly ball to center field into a bases loaded double play to cut the Cougar rally short. AGWSR ended up scoring one in the first, two in the second, and one each in the third and fifth frames on their way to the 5-1 advantage. "I would hope so (that we could have added on)," Pfaltzgraff said. "That kind of took us out of that inning, but you know, they kept on battling. We kept on trying to get runs each inning, for the most part they worked on that."

was the first time we ran a suicide squeeze all season long. It worked great.'

"Defensively, (the team) was really strong," Pfaltzgraff said. "We recorded errors in the first and second innings and they didn't score any runs off that. Errors have plagued us all season long, so it was good. It was just that one bloop hit there that gets a rally going and they start putting the ball where we're not."

In a battle of the bats with Nashua-Plainfield in the quarterfinal on Tuesday, 12 Cougar runs in the third inning and three more late in the game gave AGWSR just enough to hold for the win, even with an eight-run inning by the Huskies in the fourth. In all, the Cougars scored 16 runs on 17 hits, while the Huskies connected for 16 hits goof for 15 runs.

Hofmeister, Heetland, and Bartling each took a turn on the mound for the Cougars, with Heetland striking out three and walking one in three innings to pick up the win. Heetland also went 3-for-4 at the plate with three RBIs. Brandon Johnson and Jake Willems both hit three times in five at bats and brought in three runs.

Even with the season-ending loss to Janesville, the Cougars, and particularly seniors Evan Janssen, Trevor Bakker, and Derek Schipper, go out knowing they finished well in 2014.

"(I told them) to keep their heads up," Pfaltzgraff said. "We play in a tough conference, a 3A school, three 2A schools, so we had a lot of tough competition and I think that helped us a lot during the tournament. We are a strong team, we just play tough schools all the time and we could play with anyone here. I felt pretty good."

From page 14

"This really was an instant classic; maybe the best game I've been a part of," Coach Leonard said. "Obviously we would have loved to win it. But, for whatever reason, sometimes things just don't go your way."

"Even in a loss, I feel this program took another step forward," he said. "Hats off to Columbus on a great game and I wish them luck the rest of the way."

In the semi-final on Tuesday the Wolverines pulled off a riveting 4-2 win over Hampton-Dumont behind the steady pitching arm of Fritch and clutch hitting by Trent Johnson, Fritch, and Ben Cuvelier.

The Bulldogs lit up the scoreboard first in the third inning with back-to-back doubles that scored one, and the Wolverines answered with a Gabe Eiklenborg run in the fourth.

Neuroth doubled in the fifth, made it to third on a pass ball, and scored on a Johnson sacrifice fly to center field to give the Wolverines a

2-1 advantage.

Dike-New Hartford put together a game-changing inning in the sixth on both sides of the ball, starting with a huge double play with bases loaded on a Fritch throw to Carson Parker at home plate for the force out followed by a Parker screamer to Ty Sohn at first base to squelch the Hampton-Dumont rally. The Bulldogs scored one on an error before Parker ended the inning with a put out throw to second base on a stolen base attempt by the Sailors.

In the bottom of the sixth Eiklenborg scored the go-ahead run on a sacrifice bunt by Fritch, and Cuvelier followed the squeeze play with a complete solo trip around the bases on a deep hit to right field that was scored as a triple and an error.

"What an exciting play," Leonard said. "That kind of gave us a little breathing room, even if it wasn't very much. Our defense made plays and Byron was able to shut the door in the seventh."

The 4-2 score would hold to earn the Wolverines a spot in the district

"(This was) just a great high school baseball game," Leonard said. "Byron Fritch threw his best game of his career and was just fantastic. These kids continue to battle and compete and show the attitude and enthusiasm that successful teams need to have."

The Wolverines close out the 2014 season at 20-11 and bid farewell to seniors Alex Anderson, Ben Cuvelier, Gabe Eiklenborg, Byron Fritch, and Carson Parker.

"What an amazing season for this team," Leonard said. "The school's first ever conference championship. A school record for wins with 20. Back-to-back district finals. Three walk-off wins and a ton of great memories.'

"I will miss this group a lot," he said. "To the five seniors, thank you just doesn't seem good enough. You are amazing individuals who are and will continue to be a big part of my life. I thank you for everything and I enjoyed every second together. I will miss you."

Cougars win defensive struggle

The Grundy Register FORT DODGE – Pitching and defense win games in softball. That was No. 4 ranked AGWSR's philosophy Tuesday as it won a first-round critical run.

"I wouldn't have made it if I tried to dive back (to third)," Ingledue said.

Ingledue said it wasn't her first time plowing over a catcher.

Spartans shock Janesville in district final

By JOHN JENSEN The Grundy Register

GRUNDY CENTER - The season-long statistics did not add up to a Grundy Center victory in Saturday's district final against Janesville. The Spartans ignored the statistics.

The Wildcats (20-5) came into Saturday's district final scoring more than twice as many runs per game than the Spartans and allowing 2.6 fewer runs per game. They had not been shut out all year and Grundy Center pitchers had not thrown a shutout all year. Yet when the dust settled it was the Spartans celebrating their first district championship in many years.

"It was their game to lose and our game to win and we're the ones who came in and did what we needed to do," Spartan coach Jacob Grafenberg said.

"That's baseball — they found a couple of holes with their hits and we didn't," a dejected Janesville coach Randy Olmstead said.

Jordan Clapp tossed a six-hit shutout against a Janesville team that entered the game averaging 11.6 runs and nearly as many hits per game. He had great defense behind him, with the Spartans having just one error in the game and allowing just one runner to advance past second base.

The Spartans (13-18) advanced to the Class 1A, Substate 3 final where they fell to seventh-ranked BGM 5-2 Tuesday night. A recap of that game will be printed in next week's Grundy Register.

Though nobody knew the last time Grundy Center had won a district title, they knew it had been a long time.

"I think it was 12 or more years ago," said Clapp, who along with fellow senior Bryce Moats won in his final game at the George F. Wilhelm Sports Complex.

Clapp never got into trouble. Janesville had more than one hit in an inning only once, and that rally was erased with a ground ball to the pitcher and a strikeout. "I mixed up the curves and the fastball so I could get them off," Clapp said. "I was going off-speed, especially on their good top six hitters."

Grafenberg admitted that he considered giving Janesville a different look in the seventh with Moats, his closer, but decided to stick with his hot hand.

"I have confidence in Jordan to the point where he'll let me know when he needs to come out," he said. "It saves on (Moats') arm, too, because I'm probably going to need him on Tuesday. We're ready to go, Bryce's arm has plenty of rest.'

Grundy Center scored the only run it would need thanks to a sophomore coming up with the biggest hit of his young career. Moats reached on a fielder's choice and went to second on a balk before Grant Weldon lined one down the right field line for a double. He was thrown out at third trying to stretch #### the hit to a triple.

"I've been struggling lately but I've been putting in extra time," he said. "I went up and told myself 'I'm going to get a hit here.' It was a big time hit there. I should have picked up Coach there at third, but I wanted it."

Grafenberg said the importance of getting the early lead cannot be measured.

"I think that was huge," he said. "Grant had a great hit there right down the line, the best hit I've seen him have all year, and at a clutch time. That's very important because it obviously puts the pressure on them and it gives us momentum as well, and that's really important for our guys." The Spartans added an insurance run in the fifth inning as Sawyer Bower reached on an error and scored on a wild pitch.

"For how young we are, it's amazing the will in our hearts," Weldon said. "I honestly didn't think we could get there, but we all showed that we could get there."

state tournament game over 11thranked Bellevue Marquette Catholic, 2-0.

"It was just a great, well-played Iowa softball game against a very good team," Cougar co-head coach Scott O'Brien said. "That team's a quality team — they've beaten a lot of quality teams and we knew they'd come out aggressive swinging the bats.

"If that wasn't our 'A' game, it was at least an 'A-minus,' O'Brien said.

The Cougars advance to the State Tournament semifinal round for the second straight year, where they will face unranked Kee High, which shocked the tournament with a 4-0 first-round victory over secondranked Lynnville-Sully.

The shutout was AGWSR's fifth in its last six games and its 14th overall this year, all with Ashley Sicard pitching. The junior carried a one-hitter into the seventh inning against a team that hit .313 on the year.

"I thought Ashley did a good job of spotting her changeup, and I thought that was a real key in this game," O'Brien said. "We were throwing changeups on 2-0, 3-2 counts, keeping them off balance. That's what you have to do against a team that takes cuts like they do."

The Cougars had runners every inning but could only push them across the plate once, that coming in the third inning thanks in large part to a pair of Marquette errors. Leadoff hitter Abbie Young reached on an error and advanced to third on a Madison Fryslie sacrifice and an Olivia Ingledue base hit. Siccard, who leads Class 1A players with 14 home runs this year, got hold of one to deep center, though the wind held the ball up eough to keep it in the park for a sacrifice fly, scoring Young from third and advancing Ingledue one station closer to home.

Just a couple of pitches later, Ingledue got caught leading too far off third base by Marquette catcher Bella Berthel and headed home. The throw from third hit Ingledue in the back, and she ran plowed over Berthel to score what proved to be a "Mainly when they block the plate is when I do that," she said. "My momentum was going forward. I could have slid and gotten my back foot under her, but as my momentum was going forward I didn't really have much choice."

Marquette's best scoring chance came in the seventh inning as Blake Banowetz led off with a triple over the head of Cougar left fielder Alexa Johnson. Berthel then lined one to Young at second base. Young fired the ball to third, where Banowetz was a couple of steps off base, and Maddie Deters applied the tag to complete the double play.

Marquette followed with a pair of two-out hits before Caroline Herrig flew out to center for the game's final out.

Sicard improved to 28-5 on the season, striking out four and walking just one.

Thrilling Wolverine postseason ends in heart-wrenching district final loss

By PATTI RUST Sports Correspondent

PARKERSBURG - The Dike-New Hartford baseball team experienced the highest of highs and the lowest of lows in Class 2A District 6 postseason play this past week. After a sensational 4-2 win over Hampton-Dumont in the semi-final on Tuesday, the Wolverines stood ready to even the score with Columbus, who they went 1-2 against in regular season play and edged out for the NICL-East championship by a single game. Saturday's district final played out as one of the best local games all season, going scoreless for seven full innings, with Columbus taking the win on a run in the bottom of the eighth.

Saturday's showdown quickly developed into a battle of top area pitchers, with Dike-New Hartford's Carson Parker striking out 13 batters and the Sailors' Luke Farley fanning 14 before all was said and done. Wolverine head coach Sean Leonard couldn't say enough about the Dike-New Hartford duo of Parker on the mound and supporting target Byron Fritch behind the plate.

"The battery of Carson Parker and Byron Fritch was top notch all game," Leonard said. "They work so well together. Carson was a monster on the mound. He did everything he could do."

Through the first seven innings the Wolverine defense stepped up with some big pressure plays, holding the Sailors with runners on base in five different innings.

Offensively the Wolverines struggled to put Farley's balls in play, connecting for just two hits on the night, one by leadoff batter Parker and the other by Gabe Eiklenborg.

"We only had two really good chances to score all night, but weren't able to cash in either time," Leonard said.

Parker walked in the first inning, stole second, and made it to third on an Eiklenborg sacrifice bunt, but the Wolverines failed to bring him in as Farley sat down the next two batters. Parker opened the third inning with a double to center field, but was thrown out on a steal attempt to third. Eiklenborg drilled a base hit up the center with two down in the top of the eighth, but he too was left stranded.

In the bottom of the eighth, the Sailors loaded the bases on a walk, a bunt, and a hit by pitch, then scored courtesy runner Houston Sandvold on a pass ball to give the Sailors the 1-0 win.
